

FAST WORK--Three minutes after Marcy Van Cleave of the office staff (lower photo) had signalled an alert the alert had been sounded and the 762 persons in Lincoln-Way high school - students and adults--were out of the building and loaded in buses and cars as part of the practice maneuvers of the Civil Defense organization of Will county. As one may see from the top photo the students were not losing any time in getting out of the building. The buses were all lined up outside and quickly filled. There were not bus seats available to carry all the students, of course, so those persons, students, faculty and other school personnel who drive to and from school picked up the surplus people and the exodus was complete.

Call CD Evacuation Plan At L-W Complete Success

"It was a completely successful operation and we had the school emptied in 2 1/2 to 3 minutes, said A. Hunter Chapman, principal of Lincoln-Way high school, regarding the Civil Defense "Operation Alert" held nation-wide last Friday.

At 10 a.m., the students were loaded into five school buses and driven into New Lenox. Those who couldn't get on the buses, were put into private cars and driven around the school property. The buses were in New Lenox in six minutes.

Purpose for evacuation of the school would be to make room for persons being evacuated from the Chicago area, according to Chapman. If there was any advance warning of an attack, persons from the metropolitan area would be brought to Lincoln-Way and the students and faculty would be moved farther south to New Lenox or on to Kankakee. In the event of a sneak attack, there would be no evacuation of the school. Everyone would remain on the premises, Chapman said.

Teachers and office personnel were assigned definite duties during the Civil Defense maneuver. Once students were outside all windows were closed and all electric lights were shut off. The ventilation equipment and boilers were also shut down. One person remained at the telephone switchboard while another stayed in the public address room and listened to the radio for further instructions.

Chapman said Civil Defense officials were on hand during the school evacuation and were pleased with the outcome.

Frankfort To Pay Police Judge $100 Per Month

The Frankfort village board at its regular session Monday night fixed the salary of the police magistrate at $100 a month. The village must also furnish the magistrate with a docket, the various legal forms he uses, a set of statutes and a place to hold court, which in Frankfort will be the village hall.

Under a new law the police magistrates no longer work on a fee basis. They are to be paid a set salary, fixed by a village board or city council. In return the costs, which formerly accrued to the magistrate now goes to the municipality along with the fine.

In Frankfort the new police magistrate, Robert Burns, who was elected April 18, accounted for better than a third of his first month's pay Monday evening when he collected $38 from a speeder, Mrs. Lorraine Penzol, of LaGrange. She was arrested by Police Chief Frank Simon April 21. He charged her with driving 53 miles an hour in a 20-mile-an-hour school zone on U. S. 45 while children were waiting to cross the street.

New Lenox set its police magistrate's salary at $150 a month; Matteson at $750 a year

SHOW SLIDES to members of the New Lenox Association of Commerce illustrating the progress at Lincoln-Way high school and the need for additional revenue to maintain proper standards. The Rev. James Parker, (in the center of those standing) pastor of the Frankfort Methodist church, was the narrator. The other two standing, James Grainey, Mokena, (left) and W. Leonard Patterson, Frankfort (right) are members of the Lincoln-Way high school Citizens Committee and after the slides were shown they answered questions from the audience

Ronald Wtaker, president of the commerce group, cancelled other business so the entire time could be given over to the school problem. On May 20 citizens of the Lincoln-Way district will vote on a proposal to permit the educational tax fund to be increased 21 cents per $100 of assessed valuation to meet increased expenses. Lincoln-Way finds itself at a serious disadvantage in the competition among secondary schools for teachers because the others constantly outbid the New Lenox school.

Frankfort People To Discuss School Addition

A public meeting for the voters of Frankfort grade school district 157-C will be held next Monday, May 8, at 8 p.m. in the grade school gym, it was announced Monday night at a grade school board meeting.

Purpose of the gathering is to discuss the needs for the local school. The school is faced with an overcrowding problem next September. It is the hope of the school board that this meeting will present an opportunity for a clarification and presentation of the proposed school facilities.

An attempt will be made to answer questions that may arise during the discussion.

Supporters and those opposed to the bond referendum for a five room addition to the grade school are being asked to attend the session to thrash out all questions and problems confronting the school district.

Board members, School Principle Leroy Wright and Architect William Scheldmante will be present.

The board hired Robert Schweizer of Kankakee to set up the accounts and audit the school's books, which is now required by state law. Schweizer told the group the audit will not exceed $150 and could possibly be less and to set up the accounts and train a person to use them would cost $50. Should his assistance be required during the year, there would be no additional charge.

Herb Lambrecht reviewed the insurance policies for board members on the school and its contents. The board voted to have an insurance appraisal of the property and its contents. Two rooms have been added since the last appraisal in 1954.

This will be done before the June meeting. The board also approved taking out a policy to cover children being taken to school functions in private cars, at a cost of $32 a year. Another policy added was a food products policy for $8. This protects the school against anyone becoming ill from food served at the school.

New committees named by Board President Glen Nisson were Paul Lambrecht and Leo Haakinson, teachers and playground; Ralph Nieland and Wilbur Hossbach, janitor and building, and Vernon Hansen and Ed Tewes, gymnasium.

Wright was given permission by the board to allow two teachers to observe a reading program being conducted at the Bradley schools. Wright was also given the approval of the board to arrange a ball game or similar treat for boys and girls serving on patrol duty for the past year. This was the first year for the patrol set-up.

A request was submitted to the board by the SPC to use the gym one night a month to show films. Proceeds from the films will be used toward the construction of the pavilion in the park.

Routine bills and business were approved before adjournment. The meeting was without interruption by outside forces.

Dedication Of Post Office At Mokena Is Set For May 13

Mokena's new post office will be dedicated on Saturday May 13 at 2 p.m. The ceremony to be sponsored by the Mokena Chamber of Commerce will be held on the grounds of the new building.

A brief, but elaborate affair is being planned by Roy Richardson, the Chamber's dedication committee chairman. Richardson said that music will be furnished by the Lincoln-Way high school band under the direction of Robert Taylor and there is a good possibility that the Mokena grade school band, under the direction of Perry Friedman will also be there.

The principal speaker will be E. F. Gibson, chief engineer in charge of public buildings for the United States Post Office Department. Village Board President, Charles Swanberg and members of the board of trustees will also give brief messages.

The balance of the afternoon will be devoted to tours of the new building and an inspection of the new facilities.

Postmaster Margaret M. O'Brien has extended a cordial invitation to all post office patrons served by the local office and officials of neighboring villages and post offices.

Mokena is the first village in the Will county area to open new facilities for the distribution of mail and is expected to extend service through home delivery carriers as soon as house and lot numbers can be placed under a uniform system. New post office buildings are under construction in New Lenox, Frankfort, and Tinley Park. Orland Park has a new post office that was built prior to the one in Mokena. The communities where post offices are to be built have outgrown present facilities, it was explained.

Lions Stage Turtle Derby May 25

The Frankfort Lions club will sponsor its second annual turtle derby Thursday, May 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the grade school gymnasium, according to Lynn Kohlhaugen, club president.

"This year's event should be even bigger and better than last year's", Kohlhaugen said. "Details and entry requirements will be announced shortly."

Herbert Lambrecht, Chairman of the event, explained that any boy or girl 12 years of age or under will be eligible to become a jockey. And anyone may sponsor a turtle by contacting any Lion member.

"We will run as many heat races as are needed to permit all entered jockeys to participate," Lambrecht explained. "The event will be conducted similar to last year's, except we are planning a few changes which will speed up the heat races, including a smaller, faster track."

The proceeds will be used to sponsor the Little League teams and other service activities.

Graduate Rates Lincoln-Way As Excellent Among High Schools

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A. Hunter Chapman, principal of Lincoln-Way high school is in receipt of a letter from a former student, Wayne G. Klammer, of New Lenox, who was graduated from Lincoln-Way in 1959 and is now completing his second year at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill. It is the kind of letter which any school head would be proud to receive and Mr. Chapman is. It is carried here because we believe people will be interested to get the opinion of a student as to whether his preparation in high school fitted him for college.)

"I have two reasons for writing you this letter. First, I wish to express my gratitude for the education I received at Lincoln-Way and show how it has helped me; secondly, I would like to offer a few suggestions for its improvement that have occurred to me thru my experiences since graduation.

"Regarding the first point, I would like to state that I feel that the combination of actual educational matter and college preparation that I received at Lincoln-Way gave me an immeasurable advantage over my fellow freshmen during my first year at college. Rather than merely speak of this in a general sense, I will allow the specific facts to speak for themselves.

"My freshman year at Bradley I carried 18 hours of engineering. Bradley is one of the three best engineering schools in Illinois. . . . In order to be rated this well Bradley's curriculum is rather stiff.

"Over 50% of all engineering students fail to reach their last few years in engineering. Yet, I feel that when I entered Bradley I was as well prepared as any student in my class. To point this out I would like to review the individual courses I took my first year and show how Lincoln-Way had prepared me.

"CALCULUS -- Less than 75% entering freshmen were allowed to take this as their first math course in college. It is the same course and text that M.I.T. uses. I had received an introduction to calculus at Lincoln-Way.

"CHEMISTRY -- The book I used at Bradley was the same text I had used in senior science seminar at Lincoln-Way!

"ENGLISH -- English alone flunks more students than any other course offered. I found it to be a more continuation of my high school English!

"MECHANICAL DRAWING -- The drawings I did at L-W were more complicated than those I did at Bradley!

"These are just a few of the courses I took my freshman year but I feel that they illustrate my point quite well.

"As for suggestions I shall make, altho they are relatively few, I feel obligated to make them. Perhaps several of these improvements have been made since I graduated.

"In my senior year two courses (senior science seminar--physics, chemistry) were taught on a college level using college texts. Courses of this type, I feel, should be encouraged, more of them offered.

"I also feel that college bound graduates should be required to take at least one semester of typing. This would be a valuable tool. I did not take typing; it is thru experience I make this suggestion.

"My final suggestion is of a rather general nature. Most college engineering students have a background education of very limited scope. They have backgrounds in math, science and technical fields but are quite ignorant as to the humanities. Here I would suggest a required course similar to the practical arts course, but on a junior or preferably a senior level. The subject matter that I feel should be included in such a course would be introductions to economics, psychology and public speaking.

"I hope that these suggestions will prove to be of some value in future planning. In closing I wish to thank once more both you and the faculty of Lincoln-Way for making it a first rate secondary school."

Quiz 2 More On Thefts At Brass Foundry

Two more Chicagoans were arrested Wednesday night by county police in conjunction with the theft of brass and lead from the Hunter Foundry at Mokena.

They are Herbert Robinson, 42, of 4322 S. Drexel Ave., and Fred Nesbit of 827 E. 53rd st. Chicago presently in the county jail on a disorderly conduct charge pending further investigation in conjunction with the case are William Stokes and Robert Shepard of Chicago. All were employed at the foundry.

According to the Will County Sheriff, Gilbert Knater a company spokesman said some $13,000 in brass and lead have been stolen from the Mokena plant located on Wolf road since January of this year.

Shepard and Stokes are alleged to have been seen loading metal from the foundry into a car trunk. They were arrested two weeks ago. Questioning of the pair brought forth information on Robinson and Nesbit that brought about their arrest.

Tell Parents The Need Of More Money For L-W High

Parents of students attending Lincoln-Way high school have received personal letters from the high school board of education regarding the extension of the educational tax rate to 21 cents, scheduled for a vote on Saturday, May 20.

The note outlines information vital to those interested in the future educational program at the school. The per capita cost of education at student at Lincoln-Way is $650 per year. With 130 more students registered for next September, an additional $84,500 will be required.

The high school board is asking the 21 cent increase, explaining that this does not imply or mean the full 21 cents would be used the first year. It is the legal limitation and restriction placed on educational taxing bodies.

The present educational tax rate of 86 cents was fixed in 1956 and cannot be raised without a referendum. Three hundred additional students have been enrolled during this same period.

The letter points out that although the board of education and administrators of the school seek to do the very best for the students, it is impossible without sufficient funds. There are only so many teachers and classrooms. Students enrolling this summer will not be able to enroll in certain classes because they are filled, it was explained.

Before a student completes his or her high school program, he might find many educational opportunities denied because of crowded conditions, educators said. The board of education desires to continue with its outstanding education program, a spokesman declared.

Last Thursday all members of the Lincoln-Way Citizens' committee met at the school in an uninterrupted two hour session to plan for the coming referendum. Following the two hour session, there was a combined meeting with five minute summaries and recommendations by chairmen or secretaries of the committees. Then the Central Consulting committee met to act on the recommendations made. Robert O. Geuther of Mokena is the chairman of the Citizens committee.

The referendum will be voted upon on May 20 between the hours of noon and 7 p.m. in the grade schools within the Lincoln-Way area.

Citizen Committee Talk Before Band Boosters

Needs of Lincoln-Way high school for more money with which to operate were described to the L-W Bandboosters at their meeting April 26. Norval Robinson and John Porjick, both of Mokena and members of the Lincoln-Way Citizens Committee appeared before the Boosters with slides to illustrate their talk in support of the special referendum set for May 20. On that date the people will be asked to approve an increase of 21 cents in the educational fund tax rate.

The speakers pointed out that if Lincoln-Way is to retain good teachers it is going to have to pay better salaries. As a fund raising project Mrs. James Murphy of Mokena donated a bright red tablecloth on which she will hand embroidery, in black, at a nominal fee names of band parents, students, boosters and alumni. Anyone desiring their name to appear on the cloth may contact either Mrs. Murphy at Mokena 5130 or George Smego, Frankfort 5120.

The band boosters will prepare and serve the banquet for the New Lenox eighth grade graduation class to be held in the all-purpose room of the high school on Wednesday, May 17 at 6:30 p.m. Appointed as chairman of the affair was Mrs. James Murphy of Mokena. Assisting her as co-chairman will be Mrs. Edwin Mazurek of Mokena, Mrs. Ben Wilson, New Lenox, Mrs. Harold Zatteau, Manhattan, and Mrs. Bert Larson of Frankfort. Annual banquet for members of the high school band will be held Saturday May 27 at 6:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room with the ninth grade mothers in charge. The chairman for the affair has not as yet been announced.

Mrs. Harold Zatteau of Manhattan presented a 40 cup coffee urn to the group which was secured by members and friends saving end strips from a named brand coffee cans. The project was started six weeks ago.

Robert Taylor, band director, spoke on the newly organized band camp to be held the last week in August at J. W. Wells State Park, Escanaba, Mich. As each group attending camp must furnish their own cooking facilities and supply their own form of recreation volunteer help is being asked in planning. Bunk houses will be provided for sleeping quarters. The band boosters will pay all expenses for any member of the band desiring to attend camp. Registrations are now being accepted.

George Smego, president appointed the following members to serve as a nominating committee for the 1961-62 year: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Zatteau, Manhattan, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Ebert of Frankfort, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilson, New Lenox and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alexander of Mokena.

Appointed to serve on the auditing committee were Ralph Goodwin, Manhattan, chairman; Ben Wilson, New Lenox and James Hammond, New Lenox. Following the close of the meeting refreshments were served by members from New Lenox.

Ocean, Poles Only Beetle Free Spots In The World

By ROBERTS MANN
Conservation Editor - Cook Co. Forest Preserve

The world is full of beetles. They live everywhere except in the oceans and in the polar regions. There are more of them than any other kind of insect. A quarter of a million species are known and new ones are being discovered every year. Whether it is a microscopic mushroom beetle a hundredth of an inch long, or a giant six-inch Hercules beetle from South America, it can be recognized by its wings. The upper pair forms a hard shell curving like a shield over the thin folded lower wings and the abdomen. In flight, the upper pair is extended like the wings of an airplane and the lower two become buzzing propellers.

One or more destructive kinds of beetles attack almost everything that we grow, or eat, or wear. Some, like the lady beetle, are beneficial because they destroy plant lice and other crop pests. However, the great majority of the world's beetles do not affect us directly, either pro or con. Among these are a few especially interesting types which spend their active larval and adult lives in fresh water.

Whirligig beetles are fun to watch as they glide like tiny motor boats over the surface of our ponds and streams. Hundreds of them often crowd together in a sheltered spot out of the wind and current. If a pebble is tossed among them, they race about at high speed in a mad frenzy of circles, loops and zig-zags -- hence, they are sometimes called "Write-My-Names". When pursued, they dive to the bottom and hide. The whirligigs are oval, flattened, and black with a metallic sheen. The largest species are about a half inch long and the smaller ones about a fourth inch. The second and third pairs of legs are short broad paddles. The front legs are used for holding the mosquitoes, midges, and other surface insects on which they prey. The eyes are one of their most interesting features. Each is divided into two parts by the edge of the head; thus, one pair looks for enemies from above and the other pair from below. Some kinds give off a protective milky fluid with an odor like apple seeds.

The Diving Beetles are adapted for a life in water but are awkward and almost helpless on land. The flattened hind legs are used together like oars. A number of different local species range from one-eighth inch to over an inch in length. They are oval in shape and colored shiny black or brownish. At rest they hang head down with the breathing pores on the tip of the abdomen above the water surface. Like most water beetles they carry an air supply trapped under the wing covers when they dive. Both the adult and its larval young, called Water Tiger, are blood-thirsty predators on the other animal life in our ponds. They attack, kill, and eat dragonfly nymphs, worms, snails, tadpoles and small fish -- often several times their own size. Sometimes they cause severe losses in fish hatcheries. The water tiger grabs its prey with the large hollow sickle -- shaped jaws and injects digestive juice into it. After the flesh has become liquefied, it is sucked back into the stomach.

The Water Scavenger Beetles resemble the diving beetles in size, shape and color. In swimming they paddle alternately with the right and left legs, which gives them an erratic course. Their diet is both plant and animal matter, living or dead. In China they are dried ground into powder and used to flavor sauces. The Crawling Water Beetles are a group of very small spotted species that creep about feeding on algae.

Well--Maybe Superman Could

Standing on the corner is alright for watching all the girls go by, as the songs says, but in our humble opinion that is not the way to clock passing cars and file speeding charges against the drivers.

There are numerous communities--to numerous to regret to say--where this sort of thing is done and fines collected. Such tactics leave the victims with a low opinion of courts and law enforcement.

One hears occasionally of jockeys or runners who have such a marvelous sense of pace that they are said to have watches in their heads. We doubt, however, that as spectators they would be able to give the time for the quarters with any accuracy.

Nor do we believe that anyone standing on the street can correctly estimate the speed of passing cars. And certainly no court should ever accept such evidence.

There are recognized ways for arriving at the speed of an automobile by law officers. One is by clocking, another is thru a comparatively new device--radar. Findings from both methods are acceptable as evidence, providing the proper groundwork is laid. It also should be pointed out that an officer in clocking a car should have a speedometer that has been tested and that he had sufficient distance to synchronize his speed with that of the car ahead and then overhaul it.

According to those versed in traffic enforcement it requires at least three city blocks in which to make an accurate check. There are some states where five blocks are considered necessary in clocking a car.

Radar devices, of course, cost money so some of the law enforcing agencies apparently find it more economical to recruit men with a miraculous sense of timing and station them on corners to write out tickets for alleged speeders. These boys, one might say, out-radar radar.

Not all officers on traffic duty have built-in radar. Some instead are gifted with clairvoyance and when arriving at the scene of a collision 15 or 20 minutes later write out tickets like eyewitnesses.

There are some police officials, too, that apparently are under the delusion that they control the courts and endeavor to direct the disposal of cases. They should remember that judges are elected officials and responsible for their acts only to the law and the public.

Kangaroo justice is rank injustice and should not be tolerated.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Gambling, on a commercial basis, is on the wane. Authority for such a statement is none other than that many faceted character and man about town, Jefferson Throbbottom, graduate cum laude of Bourbon college, World university.

He had taken post graduate work in various centers of learning and would have had his doctorate no doubt but for the fact that he suffered a nervous breakdown while doing research for his thesis, "Throwing Sevens With One Dice."

The old scholar had just breezed in a few minutes before and had helped himself to a chair and at least three ounces of pipe tobacco. Now leaning back and puffing contentedly he delivered himself of his opinion on the state of the area, as far as gambling was concerned.

Yours truly expressed doubt. He mentioned the race tracks, the horse parlors, the card parlors, the crap games (floating and otherwise), Los Vegas, Reno, French Lick, Florida and kindred spots where one may seek to augment one's income without toil. The stock and grain markets were not included because with all those regulations that hedge them in today people coming in on shoestrings are no more welcome than a man with a $20-bankroll in a barboo game with the other players holding thousands. You can see how that would be -- the most the other people could win would be $20 while the clerk, should he get hot, could walk away with a bundle.

The stock market boys don't care if one wins but they can't be bothered with those small bets. There was a time when one could play puts and calls in grain market offices on a light investment but got fast action. This is no longer permitted.

Jeff interrupted my flow of observations.

"It is true there are many places existent where one may have a tussle with fortune," he agreed, "but there are not as many as there used to be and there aren't as many people gambling."

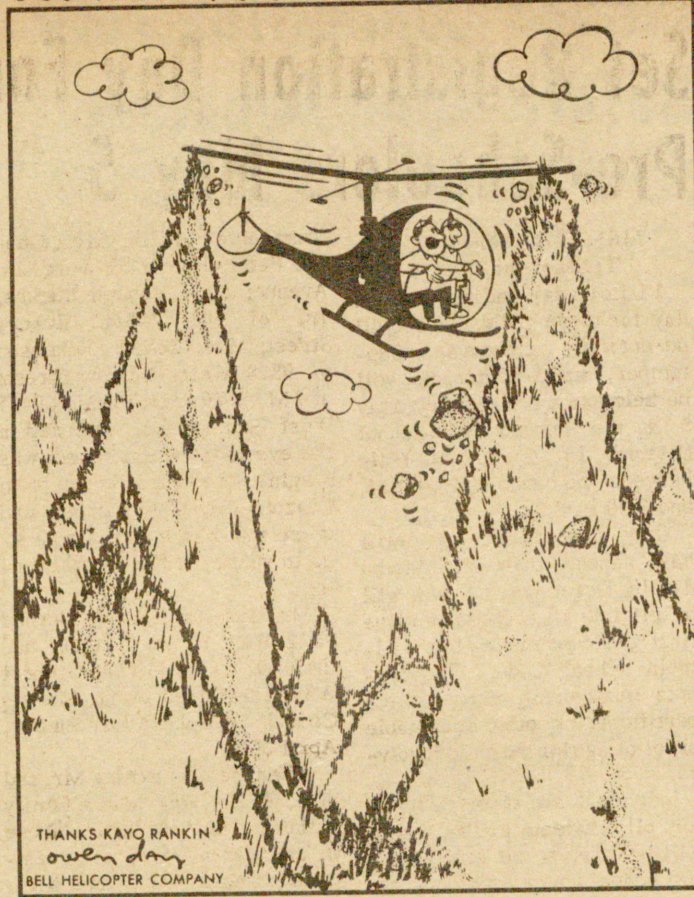

"I do not mean that people have any more moral scruples against gambling than they ever had," Jeff went on, "it is just that they are dying off and no one is coming on to replace them. Gambling is now a pastime for the elderly. The young fellows today just aren't interested."

"Men that are 60 now or better are the ones you encounter in games today. They began gambling in their teens. World War I gave a great impetus to gambling and there was considerable of it in World War II but after the second war a lot of the men who were discharged got married and took some sort of schooling at government expense. They had to stretch their money to far to risk it gambling. That was not the case after World War I."

"There will always be gambling, to some degree, but unless some future generation goes in for it in a big way gambling is on its way out as a big business."

"You have to start 'em young," declared Jeff, warning to his subject, "and the young just aren't interested in gambling today. It is like it is with some trades. Some trades are becoming, or will become, extinct because there are no young people interested in learning them or the union rules on apprenticeships are so stringent no one can get in. It is the same way with gambling.

COPTER CARTOON by owen day

"Oops...let's try landing somewhere else, Pomroy!"

"Young men today are interested in cars and girls. For that matter they usually have been interested in girls but they seem to be settling down sooner now and saving their money to buy a house, furniture or meet the payments on the car. Especially the payments on the car -- this is the first requisite for youth today and apparently he isn't risking loss of his first love by gambling. By the time he meets the car payment and buys a few hamburgers and drinks he hasn't any money left to gamble with; if he isn't working he's still in the same boat, no money for dice, cards or horses."

"Of course there are still enough of the older people to keep the gambling trade going for quite a few years to come but as they die off there are few replacements. One doesn't even see young people -- except now and then -- in the casinos at Las Vegas and the other spots where gambling is conducted on a big scale."

"Used to be a young fellow's main obligation was his board bill. He could get a reprieve on that, especially if he lived at home, but one can't con those auto finance people so that money isn't dipped into as was the board money."

"I remember once years ago when a young gambler was making quite a name for himself around Joliet -- and a lot of money too. He was a good gambler and when his luck was in he made the most of it. He had been going thru boys one night in his usual fashion. He was rolling the dice and a young switchman on the E.J. & E. had apparently just thrown the last of his paycheck on the table only to see it disappear. He started to back up, changed his mind and dug his fingers into what then served as a watch pocket. He drew out a tightly folded $20 bill, smoothed it out and tossed it on the table -- his board money."

"Take it easy, Tim," he entreated, "take it easy, won't you, ma's fadin' you now."

"Tim brushed away a tear, threw a seven and raked in the board money. You can imagine what would have happened had the lad urged him to have a heart, that if Tim won he would be depriving such-and-such finance company, a corporation, of a payment due on the fader's car. I have no doubt but that Tim would not only have won the money but also the switchman's cap, his lantern and his shoes. He would have been lucky indeed if he had kept his pants."

"I recall one time when a Chicago group pooled funds and sent an expert with the dice to Joliet to take Tim's roll. The man brought a little bag to the table with him and before play started he opened the bag and took out a green eyeshade, a pair of sleeve protectors to keep his cuffs fresh and a green baize apron to protect his clothing against contact with the table. He had to have money wired twice. Three days and about $20,000 later he called for more funds."

"Never mind more money," his group spokesman's ordered, "come on back before that guy wins your eyeshade, your sleeve protectors, your little green apron and the bag you carry them in."

"There are still some big scores being made in barboo and craps but there are no young men in the games. Really, son, I believe gambling is on the decline."

The deadline for 4-H clubs to send me the name of their delegate to the State 4-H Club Week, to be held in Urbana, has been extended to May 10. This is the first year for a club week on the College of Agriculture campus. An interesting program with lots of opportunity for fun and fellowship is now taking shape. Each 4-H club in this county is entitled to a delegate, provided the delegate has completed the sophomore year in high school and is a currently enrolled 4-H member.

Sign-up in the Feed Grain program is still open. As I understand it, the deadline date is May 26. Key factors to be considered by farmers in making their decision whether or not to participate are: available storage space for grain, expected market price for this grain and the type of farming operation being carried on. College economists feel that a grain farmer who has storage and estimates the free market price of corn to be $1 or less next year will probably find it advantageous to comply. The same economists say that farmers may rent storage and pay as much as 10 to 15 cents per bushel for the season and still find it advantageous to store grain. Apparently there is some confusion about receiving support price on soybeans. Clarence Fulton, Tinley Park; and Harry Cletcher, Lockport; who worked during the sign-up days, report many questions were asked concerning soybeans and price support. A farmer does not have to divert corn acreage to be eligible for price support on soybeans. They must, however, plant within the corn base and maintain their acreage in soil conserving crops such as hay and pasture. By doing so they may receive the $2.30 price support on soybeans. They must, however, have a place to store these beans.

Members of the ASC committee asked that farmers indicate their intentions with respect to compliance or non-compliance, to the ASC office in the very near future and certainly before May 26.

Farmers who are diverting acreage have a good opportunity to do a good job of weed control. Peter Hamstengel, Le-mont township; was inquiring about chemicals he might use to control a couple of problem areas on his diverted acres. If you have a problem with thistles or quack grass, spring would be a good time to treat with amino-triozol for thistle control and dalapon for quack grass control. Follow the instructions on the label. Amino-triozol and dalapon should be used at the rate of eight pounds per acre in 50 gallons of water. Apply this material when the thistles or quack grass have reached the height of six inches to one foot. The ground can be worked two to three weeks later.

Business & Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Only a short time ago, Secretary of Labor Goldberg, was warning of a depression and the need for immediate steps to ward off this economic calamity. Some of the top labor leaders were echoing this dire eventuality. It is now obvious that these statements were for the purpose of pushing congress into passage of legislation which they desired rather than on the basis of immediate need.

The stock market action since last October, has forecast the turn in business. Now business statistics clearly show the upturn started about the first of the year. Two members of the cabinet, Dillon and Hodges, now predict better times immediately ahead.

Department store sales rose more than 10 per cent over a year ago, based on figures after mid-February. Steel production has been showing a steady rise. Heavy snows in early 1961 are blamed for slowing of autosales as well as slow down in retail trade. Ford has announced a 25 per cent production increase for the second quarter. Trade associations report that used car sales have been increasing and prices firming.

Analysts are now predicting that industry spending on new plant and equipment, will exceed the rate predicted at start of 1961. Residential construction is also expected to show a good increase.

Several leading analysts are predicting a substantial business increase. Predictions are now being made that present unemployment of 6.8 per cent of the labor force, will be reduced to a normal 4 per cent.

Fortune magazine and other commentators on residential building (including apartment construction) expect a two year slump in this field, to show a sharp rise shortly. It is reported that on the basis of contracts already awarded, that more apartment buildings will be started in this quarter, than any time since the 1920's.

Sales of pre-fabricated and "shell" homes are showing a substantial increase. These types of housing are attracting buyers who could not afford conventional housing. The government is adding thru lower interest rates, longer maturities, and lower down payments.

Our loss of gold holding's has been largely attributed to the fact that short term interest rates in Europe offered more attractive returns than in this country. The Federal Reserve is now letting short term money rates find their own level thru forces of supply and demand. Their efforts are toward influencing long term rates thru open market purchases of long term government bonds. The out flow of gold was stopped in early March. Federal Reserve purchase of long term bonds held by banks, increases the bank reserves and makes credit easy. This policy is being cautiously pursued as making long term credit too easy, could have undesirable results. The Federal Reserve altho naturally somewhat responsive to political pressures, has proven to be very competent on the whole. Management of money and credit is a highly technical field and few people have had the training to enter it at the management level.

The objective is to guard against a sharp rise in interest rates as business improves and long term credit demands increase.

READ JOHN 6:30-40

Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out. (John 6:37.) Word came to a missionary that a woman had died. When he saw her, he persuaded her people not to bury her, for he said she was not dead but in a coma. After some hours she regained consciousness. Her astonished relatives listened with great respect to her words.

What she told them confirmed what the missionaries had been telling the people. She told them that she had seen a beautiful place where there was no sickness or hunger. She said, "Jesus is so good, and I am so bad." But He was her Savior. Gone was all her fear, and she eagerly awaited her call to return to that good place. It came within a few days.

In that village five men came to the mission, seeking the way of salvation. They opened their hearts to Christ. Thus was the church established in another dark corner of the world.

The church is surely at work

Hints For Homeowners

BY: JAMES FIZZELL, ASS'T. FARM ADVISER

May 25, is generally considered the frost free date in this locality. This means that frost has never occurred after this date, and it is safe to set out tender plants.

Since it is less than one month until May 25th, now is the time to start seedlings indoors for good sized plants.

Prepare flats or containers in the following manner: (wooden cigar boxes make good flats). Be sure there are sufficient drainage holes in the bottom of the container. Cover the bottom with a layer of sphagnum or peat moss to keep the soil from plugging up the drain holes. Next fill the flat to within one inch of the top with clean, friable soil. On top of the soil, spread 1/2 inch of sand, shredded peat, or vermiculite. Water thoroughly to firm the soil. The seed is sown in 1/2 inch deep furrows which are made by pressing the edge of a lath or thin board into the planting medium. Large seeds may be covered with sand or vermiculite. Small seeds such as petunias need not be covered. Be sure to label each row carefully. Sown flats should be watered immediately by placing them in a pan of water. Watering over the top may wash the seed away. Keep the flats in a warm place until the seed germinates. Do not allow the soil to dry out or the seed will be killed. Covering the flat with plastic, burlap or newspaper may be helpful. As soon as the seeds germinate, move the flats to a cool bright place such as a cold frame or an unheated porch. When the seedlings begin to crowd each other, transplant them or they will become weak and spindly. When transplanting mixtures, be sure to transplant small as well as large seedlings. Different types of flowers grow at different rates.

Washington News Letter

By CONG. N. M. MASON
S. 991, a bill "to promote education in the United States", was sponsored and introduced by Senators Goldwater and Dirksen in order to head off or prevent the passage of the President's Federal Aid to Education Bill.

S. 991 provides that every taxpayer who pays a school tax on his real property or as part of his real estate tax shall, after having calculated the amount of Federal Aid to Education Bill.

S. 991 provides that every taxpayer who pays a school tax on his real property or as part of his real estate tax shall, after having calculated the amount of Federal income tax which he must pay the United States, be permitted to subtract the full amount of such school property tax. This will result in a total additional benefit to the taxpayers of between $3 and $4 billion. Briefly, S. 991 will accomplish the following:

1. The States can increase their taxes for educational purposes without imposing additional burdens on their taxpayers, as the taxpayers will be relieved of this expense on their Federal income tax.

2. The tax relief will go to all taxpayers, thus removing the discrimination in the administration's proposal. Parents of private and parochial school children will be financially enabled through the tax relief to support the schools of their choice.

3. The public school systems will benefit, as all taxpayers must pay the State taxes for State systems before receiving deductions from the Federal government.

4. S. 991 is legal and constitutional as it gives tax relief to individuals instead of contributing to either public or private school systems.

Every American who wants aid to education WITHOUT FEDERAL CONTROL, without waste, without discrimination, and within the proper legal limits of the Constitution, should urge his Congressman to substitute S. 991 for the Administration's Federal Aid to Education measure.

THE SUCKER STATE: "Illinois citizens generally prefer to have their state called the Prairie State but for 135 years it has been known as the Sucker state. . . Today, mention of Sucker state would cause a good many residents to think of the $5.7 billion aid-to-education bill sponsored by the Kennedy Administration under which Illinoisans would pay $24 per pupil the first year and get back $15--and pay in the next two years accordingly."

ILLINOIS RANKS THIRD IN AMOUNT OF FEDERAL TAXES: The total federal tax collections yearly from all the states is approximately $86 billion. Of this amount the five largest and more prosperous states pay as follows:
New York $11.78 billion or 13.68 per cent
California 9.46 billion or 10.96 per cent
Illinois 6.02 billion or 7.17 per cent in the world. Even now many persons are hearing of the one true God for the first time. The work is the Holy Spirit's - but He uses human messengers.

PRAYER: O God of the nations, bless the work of Thy church in every land. Confound the work of sin and bring glory to the name of Thy victorious Son in hearts where darkness still holds sway. In His name. Amen.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT: The cost of governing is rising even faster than the cost of living, according to The Tax Foundation, a private study group. The Foundation reported that between 1950 and 1960 total government spending -- Federal, State, and local -- more than doubled, increasing from $70.-334 billion to $153 billion. Sixty-three per cent of the total was spent by the Federal government.

OUR AMERICAN PUBLIC DEBT IS $355 BILLION: The Tax Foundation Incorporated, New York City, says our total public debt -- federal, state, and local -- now totals $355 billion. This total is divided as follows: National, $286 billion; state, $18 billion; and local, $51 billion. This total gross debt is expected to increase to $360 billion by the end of 1961.

Tel. Mokena 5740
Visitors day and registration day for those children who will be entering first grade in September, and their parents, will be held tomorrow (Friday), May 5 at the Summit Hill School District 161 in Arbury Hills between the hours of 1:00 P.M. and 3:00 P.M.

Only those children who will have reached their sixth birthday by December 1, 1961 will be eligible to register for the first grade according to the Illinois School Code. The parents must bring along a birth certificate or other acceptable proof of age for the child involved.

Individual and class pictures for all students in the school will be taken at the school during school hours next Tuesday, May 9. The students will be charged only for those photographs which are not returned. If all of the photographs are returned, there will be no charge involved.

Ray Doner has been named to serve again at President of the school board and Sam LaRocca has been named to serve as clerk.

The Parent Teacher Group and the Civic Association are asking for volunteers to work for the establishment of Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts in Arbury Hills. Anyone who is interested in volunteering or who wishes to have any point cleared up is asked to call Mrs. Thomas Tanis at Mokena 5194 or Glenn Culm at Mokena 4491.

At the present time there is a membership drive being conducted all thru Arbury Hills. If you are not contacted as soon as you would like, you may contact Mrs. Charles Fink at 9527 West Rosewood Lane. She is chairman of the Membership Committee.

A Fluoridation Committee has been formed by the Civic Association to investigate the possibilities pro and con of fluoridating Arbury Hills water. At the present time the committee is still in the checking stage.

There are still approximately fifty Arbury Hills residents who have not signed the petition being circulated to obtain door-to-door mail service for the area. Every effort will be made to get one hundred per cent of the signatures on the petition before it is sent to the proper authorities.

The Civic Association is intending to start Little League teams for the younger boys, as soon as arrangements can be made for a baseball diamond. This will furnish one outlet for the young boys in the area.

William O'Neil, president of the Civic Association, is interested in organizing a Junior Civic Association of residents of high school age. The Junior Civic Association would be invited, at intervals, to the regular monthly meetings and also the Board of Directors meetings. Anyone interested in this matter should contact William O'Neil at Mokena 5155.

BUDGET TERMS
Modernize with Skelgas on long, easy terms.

We're changing our price tags
We want you to know why...

For years the Illinois Central has been proud to operate a suburban service that many people call the best in the world. To keep it this way we are continually striving to improve the service and make it attractive to our patrons. During this period our costs have continued to move upward.

While a greater portion of our patrons use morning and evening suburban service to and from work, we realize that there are many more people who could use the service during the day, when trains are lightly loaded. We are, therefore, proposing to initiate a Shoppers' Ticket Plan which we hope will appeal to many for daytime trips to and from the loop. We hope that this will tend to improve our business during non-rush hours and help us serve you better.

New Plan for Shoppers

Beginning June 1, we will put into effect a schedule of low-cost round-trip Shopper Fares good on all trains arriving at Randolph Street after 9:30 A.M. and leaving Randolph Street before 4:00 P.M. Monday through Saturday. The saving to shoppers will be considerable. We hope that many of you and your families will try this service and use it again and again. Sample Shopper Fares are listed below.

The Story of Our Cost

Although we are hopeful that our Shoppers' Fares will attract some new revenue, we still have problems created by rising expenses. Since we last asked for an increase in suburban fares, wage rates and payroll tax rates have both gone up. So have prices of materials and supplies. In this period there have been seven changes in wage rates and fringe benefits, all upward. Wage rates have jumped a total of 26 cents an hour, increasing the cost of our 1961 operations more than half a million dollars above what these costs would have been. Payroll tax rate changes and increased material expenses, during the same period, will increase our 1961 costs by about $170,000. All together, the expense of operating our suburban service this year, compared to what it would otherwise have been, will be up more than $700,000.

It's Better to Plug a Small Leak

You may say this isn't much money to a big railroad like the Illinois Central. But when we are trying to maintain a high level suburban service and have already pared our expenses to the bone we can't continue to absorb added expense. To us, plugging a relatively small hole in the levee makes better sense than waiting until the whole levee washes away.

In most stores when prices change, new tags go up on the shelves or are attached to the merchandise. Hardly anybody asks why. But with our suburban service it's different. It's tradition with us to take our friends into our confidence.

Keeping Our Service Running

Those who know us are aware that we think a long time before reaching a decision to increase suburban fares. Hundreds of thousands of you and even entire communities depend on us to reach the downtown area. Only suburban service like ours keeps other arteries of travel from choking up. We're fighting to keep the city from strangling on its own traffic. We are sure most of you can see our reason for a modest increase in fares, and the price of Illinois Central Electric transportation will continue to be a great bargain. Compare it with private travel by automobile. Compare the time-saving, too.

The increase in suburban fares is just enough to cover increased expenses, no more. Rightfully, we should establish fares high enough to make a fair and reasonable profit. Despite this, we are planning only a rock-bottom increase effective June 1. From the schedule of fares shown, you will see that the new charges will not be a burden on your family budget. The actual increase is only 8.2 per cent. On multiple ride and commutation tickets this amounts to only a few pennies a ride.

ASC Manager Gives Pointers To Farmers On Crop Programs

Sign-up for the 1961 feed grain program recently passed by congress is now under way in Cook county, Joe E. Murphy, manager of the county ASC office announced this week.

High interest in the program is reported from thruout the state. All producers of corn and grain sorghum are eligible to take part. To cooperate a farmer agrees to divert at least 20 percent of his 1959-1960 corn base acreage to a soil conserving use.

In return, he receives a payment for each acre diverted and is eligible for price support on his normal production of corn and grain sorghum. He also qualifies for price support on his oats, barley and rye that he produces.

Safari Film Benefit

Ned Payne, safari adventurer extraordinary, will show color films of his sport fishing and wild game hunting experiences around the world on Friday, May 5, at 8 p.m. at the Carl Sandburg high school, LaGrange Road, Palos Park.

The show is open to the public and is sponsored by the Community Center Foundation of Palos Park. All proceeds will be used in support of the Foundation's Summer Camp for boys and girls.

A special attraction will be new films of Mr. Payne's most recent journey to Africa. This was made in 1960. Also on the program will be Art Mercier, television and radio sports broadcaster.

In private life a south suburban business man, Mr. Payne has been carrying cameras as well as guns and fishing tackle with him for more than ten years. Fishing highlights range from the cool waters of God's Lake in Manitoba to the exciting battle against a 1,000 pound black marlin off the coast of Peru. There are many sequences of primitive areas in South America, with the action then shifting to big game hunting in Africa, the scene of Mr. Payne's most recent adventures.

Admission is $1 for adults; 50 cents for children. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from the Community Center Foundation Office, phone Gibson 8-0780 classified listing of Chamber members is contained within the pages of the directory. It classifies the business representatives.

Postmaster Margaret O'Brien asked the group to handle the arrangements for the dedication of the new post office. The organization agreed and turned over details to a committee headed by Roy Richardson.

Slides were shown in behalf of the Lincoln-Way Referendum to be voted on by residents of School Dist. 210 on Saturday, May 20. The citizens committee of Lincoln-Way was represented by Rev. James Parker, W. L. Patterson, Jim Grainey and Robert Geuther.

Churches To Hold Soil Stewardship Services

Will county will join other counties thruout the nation in observance of Soil Stewardship week, May 7-May 14. Will county churches will participate with soil stewardship services on either Sunday, the 7th or 14th. Each church has been contacted and those who requested have been supplied with programs and material by the Will County Soil Conservation district.

"When Moses was inspired to deliver the Ten Commandments to the Israelites in the desert to establish man's relationship to his creator and his fellow men, a stewardship spokesman said, "had he foreseen what was to become of the Promised land after 3,000 years and what was to become of hundreds of millions of acres of more good lands such as China, Korea, North Africa, Near East and in our own fair land of America and if he had foreseen what suicidal agriculture would do to the land of the holy earth, he might of been inspired to deliver another commandment to establish man's relation to the earth and to complete man's trinity of responsibilities to his creator, to his fellow men and to the holy earth."

Dr. W. C. Lowdermilk, former assistant chief of Soil Conservation Service, presented for the first time what has been called an "Eleventh Commandment" during a radio broadcast in June of 1939. It is as follows:

"Thou shall inherit the Holy Earth as a faithful steward, conserving its resources and productivity from generation to generation. Thou shalt safeguard thy fields from soil erosion, thy living waters from drying up, thy forests from desolation and protect thy hills from overgrazing by thy herds, that thy descendants may have abundance forever. If any shall fail in this stewardship of the land thy fruitful fields shall become sterile stony ground and wasting gullies, and thy descendants shall decrease and live in poverty or perish from off the face of the earth."

Cook Co. Adopts Manual Governing Subdivisions

(CNS) -- The Cook county board has adopted a new subdivision manual which outlines the ordinance regulating the orderly development of some 480 sq. miles of unincorporated land in suburban areas.

The manual is the second step in the county's plans to revamp its regulatory codes and ordinances. Last year the board passed a comprehensive zoning ordinance and is expected to hold hearings shortly on a new building code.

The manual was drafted by Harry P. Chaddick, county consultant and director of the county's Code and Ordinance Revision Committee.

The new regulations set up a series of minimum standards for public improvements such as roads, water, sewage, and street light facilities.

At the last public hearing on the manual Chaddick warned the county board that if the manual was not approved soon builders would continue to construct unrestricted new developments in the unincorporated areas that could spawn into slums.

"If we don't pass the ordinance, we will be permitting the establishment of no-man's land areas that no village will want to annex," he said.

The regulations are strict, Chaddick pointed out, but they are not intended to hamper builders in any way.

"One of the errors committed in the past in subdivision development has been the lack of recognition of the long-term responsibilities involved in the planning of land and laying out of streets and other facilities and services," Board President John J. Duffy said.

"The purpose of the regulations is to see that every subdivision is so well designed and constructed that it does not become a charge against the community . . . and thus adversely affect the local tax base," Duffy said.

Under the new manual all plats must be submitted to a county plat officer who will make certain the provisions are adhered to by developers. Investigations of various phases of the plat will also be undertaken by the county highway department, the health department, and the zoning administrator.

The plat officer will then make his recommendations directly to the county board which must pass on all plats before final approval of a new development or subdivision.

An important feature in the new manual is a provision that the plat officer must notify appropriate local agencies, such as school, park and recreation boards, when plats are submitted so that the agencies have time to negotiate for purchase of needed public land in any given development.

HAD GOOD DAY--Johan Rhinehard, Lincoln-Way speedster (second from the left) accounted for nine of the Knights 21 points in the Will county track and field meet at Joliet last Saturday.

He is shown here at the start of the 100-yd. dash in which he placed second which was good for four points. He won the 440 in :23.7 for the other five points.

—OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day—

Backward in Name Only

This is the "off-season" for most race tracks. The horses are wintering, if not vacationing, in Florida, California and Louisiana. But there is no off-season for Ak-Sar-Ben at Omaha, Nebraska. The only backward thing about Ak-Sar-Ben is the spelling of its name. Under the dynamic general management of J. J. "Jake" Isaacson, one-time newsboy who quit a job as sports editor of the Omaha Daily News to become impresario for the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben, Omaha's 75-year-old civic organization, there is always something doing at Ak-Sar-Ben. Founded in 1895 "for public service and not for profit," Ak-Sar-Ben provides more than 200 annual college scholarships, thousands of dollars in premiums for FFA and 4-H exhibits at county fairs, sponsors an annual Live Stock Show and the world's largest 4-H Baby Beef show, provides post graduate courses for 4-H leaders, County Agents and FFA instructors. For its 20,000 members, it brings to Omaha outstanding symphony orchestras and performing artists, rodeos, ice shows and entertainers such as Bob Hope, Milton Berle, Eddie Cantor, Danny Kaye, Jimmy Durante, and others. Ak-Sar-Ben's annual 30-day racing meeting is but a part of the activity, albeit an important part; all proceeds of the racing go into Ak-Sar-Ben's year-round program of philanthropy, education and cultural entertainment.

Knights Drop 4 Consecutive Games, Now Out Of Race

BY BILL SLUIS

During a horrendous week of baseball, the Knights drop four straight games in the Southwest Suburban Conference last week, dropping to a 2-6 record. On four successive days they succumbed to Evergreen Park, Rich, Reavis, and Oak Lawn.

Wednesday afternoon Evergreen Park staged a seventh inning rally to beat the Knights in a 5-4 cliff-hanger. The Knights jumped early 3-0 in the second on Wayne Lauffer's double and Jerry Sayers' single. But the Mustangs battered their way back, and trailed 4-3 coming into the bottom of the seventh. Four consecutive hits by Russo, Dixon, Rafec, and Surdyk capped the activity.

Chuck Herich was the winner in relief, having relieved Rich Gronemeyer in the top of the sixth. The loser was Ron Yunker.

At Park Forest Thursday, Rich Twp. pitcher Kemper Baker hurled a no-hit ball game for the Rockets, as Rich defeated Lincoln-Way 12-2. All but one of Rich's starters got a hit as the Rockets held batting practice against Knight hurlers Lee Harwood and Gene Carlos. Lincoln-Way scored both its runs in the second inning on a walk, two errors, and two groundballs. Rich won in 4 1/2 innings by the "ten-run rule" which is in effect in high school baseball.

Another "five-act comedy" took place at Reavis Friday afternoon. The Rams scored seven runs in the first and were never headed, as they took an 11-0 victory over the hapless red and black. John Janssen tossed a one-hit shut-out and got the win. The lone hit off Janssen was a scratch single by Wayne Lauffer in the second.

The final loss came Saturday morning at 11:00 o'clock, in a make-up game at Lincoln-Way. The Oak Lawn Spartans took a 10-2 decision. The Oaks teed off for twelve hits and capitalized on five errors for the victory, pounding L-W hurlers Lee Harwood, Ray Turney, and Wayne Lauffer. Rich Bryles was the winner for the Spartans, hurling a three hitter.

Rich was left atop the league by the week's activity, while the Knights dropped out of contention in the SWS race.

Lincoln-Way finished fourth in the second annual Will county track and field meet at Joliet Saturday with 21 points, just a quarter of a point back of Wilmington who finished third.

Joliet won the meet with a total of 84 1/2 points and Lockport again wound up in the second spot with 37 1/2 points, which was an improvement over its total of last year when it was also second. That the caliber of the competing schools is improved is shown by the fact that Joliet finished with 100 plus points last year.

Rush To Sign Up For Boys' Camping Trip

The "early bird" sign ups for the Palos-Orland . . . West Suburban YMCA two-week boys' resident camping period have accounted for an enrollment of 75% of the 100 boy capacity to date.

John Allyn, 12130 S. 69th Ct., speaking as chairman of the Palos-Orland YMCA youth program committee said "never before in the history of suburban 'Y' camping have we seen such an avalanche of early camper registrations. With nearly six weeks remaining before the opening of camp we can accommodate only 23 additional boys and I'm afraid some of our last year campers who may be prone to wait to register, will be bitterly disappointed."

Henry Washcow, boy's work secretary of the West Suburban "Y" will again be camp director for the two week camping period . . . June 17 - July 1 at Camp Channing on Upper Scott Lake near Pullman, Mich.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the Palos-Orland YMCA office at Gibson 8-3888.

Plans were made to hold uniform inspection, and a re-chartering of the pack at the May meeting, Fred Feil, counselor, from New Lenox was guest speaker.

Plans for summer activities for the pack were discussed.

Members of the Busy Hour 4-H club held a special meeting Thursday night to complete plans for the Community club program Friday night. The club will be host. A regular monthly meeting, will be held this afternoon, May 4, at 3:45 p.m. in Schmuhl school.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thode and son, Kurt of Chicago were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thode.

First grade mothers of Schmuhl school are making plans for a roller skating party to be held at the Lockport roller rink early in June. Tickets are being sold now for the party.

TB Report Shows $37,503 Raised Thru Seal Drive

W. Edwin Long of Wesley township was re-elected president of the Will County Tuberculosis Association Wednesday night at the annual meeting held in the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Clara and Larkin, Joliet.

Main speaker at the dinner session attended by 100 persons was Ben D. Kiningham, executive director of the Illinois Tuberculosis Association, of Springfield. The program also included presentation of magic by George Schuller of Joliet.

Mrs. Frances E. Moehl, executive director of the Will County Association, presented the annual report showing a record $37,503.23 raised during the 1960 Will County Christmas seal campaign. Mrs. Moehl lauded volunteer workers who have assisted the organization noting that 779 volunteers gave a total of 3,070 hours of time to various TB projects.

Mr. Kiningham in his talk, noted that although tuberculosis has been drastically reduced as a cause of death, incidence of new cases continues high and treatment involves long periods of time. He said 5,000 new cases of TB were reported in Illinois last year.

"If we had had that number of cases of polio, or typhoid fever, everybody would have been calling for a vast emergency program to meet the problem," Kiningham said. He stressed the importance of continuing research and study until tuberculosis is brought completely under control.

All members of the Executive Committee were unanimously re-elected. They included: Mrs. Earl H. Keniston, first vice president; James A. Tyler, Jr., second vice president; Albert E. Kinson, secretary; Donald J. Fisher, treasurer, and Mrs. George F. Kahn, Ted A. Massey and Bernard L. Williams.

Nominated and elected to the Board of Directors of this newspaper area were:

John Oster, New Lenox Township, Loren Sass, Homer Township, Nicholas M. Radakovich, Green Garden Township, Ralph Fehland, Monee Township.

Ra was the sun god of Egyptian mythology.
